Would You Rather Be Normal Or Optimal?

Blood chemistry is an effective tool for any healthcare professional to use in order to screen and identify imbalances in the body. This presentation will focus on looking at bloodwork through a "Functional" eye. The functional range looks at risk for disease; in other words, preventative. Results within the imbalance of functional range allow for strategies such as diet/ nutrition, lifestyle, and other holistic therapies.

I hope you will join me.

Do you see clients with anxiety, insomnia, pain, depression, digestive issues, immune disorders, migraines, neurodegenerative disease, PTSD, seizures or pain?

Offer your clients a revolutionary, ancient healing modality.
